THE WREN KITCHENS DIFFERENCE

When you buy a Wren kitchen, you're in good company. Since we launched in 2009, Wren Kitchens has grown into the UK's number one kitchen retail specialist*. In that time, we have delivered over £1 billion of kitchens.

Wren's kitchens are made in our factories then delivered to our customers in our lorries - that's why our customers pay less.

When we say Wren is a kitchen specialist, we mean it. Making and selling kitchens is our business. It's all we do and it's what we've done since the family behind Wren Kitchens was involved with Hygena in the 1970s. We have been making kitchens that customers love for more than 40 years. The knowledge and skills built up in that time go into the design and manufacture of every kitchen we make, sell and install today.

Made in the UK – by Wren Kitchens

Wren's kitchens are made in the UK in our three purpose-built manufacturing facilities. This gives us complete control of quality every step of the way.

Unique manufacturing techniques

The unique techniques that we use in our manufacturing facilities, including special paint finishes, adhesive treatments and assembly, give us the confidence in our kitchens to give long guarantees - 25 years for Infinity Plus, 20 years for Infinity and 15 years for Vogue.

Made to order

Every Infinity and Infinity Plus kitchen is made to order. After your plan is agreed, our experts measure your room and place your order. It's your kitchen. It's made for you. Our flat pack Vogue kitchens are manufactured in batches and kept in stock for fast order and delivery - and lower prices.

Widest range in the UK

Wren Kitchens has the widest range of kitchen styles, colours and units in the UK with Infinity Plus, Infinity and Vogue. It gives you a choice of over 10 million combinations so your kitchen will be uniquely yours.

Affordable luxury

There's a kitchen for every home and every budget in the Wren Kitchens collection. Choose an affordable yet beautiful Vogue flat pack kitchen, go for the enduring popularity of an Infinity factory built kitchen or the luxury and choice that comes with a bespoke built to order Infinity Plus kitchen. Wren Kitchens makes your dream - no matter how large or small - a reality.

Quality guaranteed

Our thorough quality control procedures mean that every single door panel is inspected by hand before leaving our factories so you can be sure your kitchen's finish will be flawless.

Showstopping Showrooms

Our nationwide Showrooms turn buying a kitchen into an interactive experience that invites you to dream, explore and discover the kitchen you've always wanted. Pop into one of our Showrooms and let our Kitchen Designers introduce you to Infinity and Vogue - plus worktops, appliances, taps, sinks and a wide range of accessories.

Customer focused

Buying a new kitchen is one of the largest investments you'll make, and we know it's a big decision. We'll be on hand to guide you through the process and answer any questions you might have.

Feature units

To add another wow factor to your kitchen design, Wren has the biggest range of special feature units. From dresser units to cook's tables, wine racks to pet beds, these units come in 17 colours and dozens of sizes.

Hassle-free installation

Let Wren take all the stress out of fitting a new kitchen with our kitchen installation service. From removing your old kitchen to applying the finishing touch to your new kitchen, we'll manage every step of your installation perfectly and professionally. Our excellent service has been recognised by FIRA which awarded us its gold standard for installation in March 2017.

Environmentally aware

We source our materials sustainably and use suppliers who share our values to reduce our impact on the environment. All Wren kitchens are recyclable when the time comes to replace them.

Fully built

Infinity Plus and Infinity kitchen cabinets are fully built as part of the manufacturing process. All drawer units, internal fittings and accessories are fitted by a team of skilled craftsmen so there's nothing left to fit yourself. This cuts down the installation time and eliminates any risk of parts going missing.

Flat pack

To help you stretch your budget, our Vogue range units come as a flat pack ready for you or your installer to assemble before installation. Vogue is made using the same high-quality materials and high-tech processes as Infinity, and in the same UK factories.

Free design service

When you visit one of our Showrooms, you can book a one-to-one meeting with one of our expert Kitchen Designers who can help you plan your dream kitchen. You'll see a 3D drawing of what your kitchen will look like and have your questions answered.

Delivery

Your kitchen will be delivered by a Wren delivery truck on a pre-arranged date and we'll unpack your new kitchen into the room of your choice, ready for installation or assembly.

 Number one kitchen retail specialist refers to Wren Kitchens being the number one (i.e. the largest in terms of retail sales) specialist kitchen retailer (i.e. a retailer that specialises in selling to consumers, not trade purchasers and is not also a general DIY shed or home goods retailer). WHAT OUR KITCHENS COST

Throughout the brochure, we've given you a price for each kitchen so you can see at a glance what the units would cost. This price covers the units only and does not include the price of handles, worktops, appliances, sinks, taps, props, accessories, small worktop appliances or installation. Prices correct as of 31 October 2017.

The reason we only show the price of the units is because every customer chooses their own personal combination of units, worktops, accessories and appliances to create their kitchen. It's what makes every Wren kitchen unique.

To give you a better idea of how much a complete kitchen will cost, we've put together this guide to the prices of different ranges of units, worktops and appliances. You'll find an average price for different numbers of basic wall and base units in each of our ranges, an idea of what your favourite worktop will cost, plus popular appliances, from functional and efficient CDA to top of the range Miele. There's also an estimate of installation costs using a Wren-approved installer.

The Infinity Plus 'Fully Loaded' price guide is based on designs with some of those extras we know you'll want. This includes feature units such as dressers, pet beds, open shelves or wine racks from our wide range.

Although we've done our best to give you an idea of how much your kitchen will cost, every kitchen is a personal design with a bespoke price. Your Kitchen Designer can give you an accurate quotation.

INTRODUCING

Vogue

Introducing the latest member of the Wren Kitchens family - Vogue. Vogue offers a completely new way to explore, discover and enjoy our kitchens.

With Vogue, you are assured of the same quality of units and the same standards of manufacturing as our Infinity kitchens but at an even more affordable price.

We're able to give customers savings of around 20% by making the units in bulk, rather than to order, and saving our factory costs on assembly. Then, because they're supplied flat pack, they take up less room in our trucks so we can pass on delivery savings to you, too.

If you are using Wren's professional installation service, the installer will be able to assemble the units for you at just £35 extra per unit to cover the cost of assembly time.

There are five styles of Vogue units available - Shaker, J-Pull, Autograph, Edwardian and Slab - representing our most popular ranges. The units are made in the same factories, to the same specification as our Infinity kitchens. You'll find some new colours available as well as some customer favourites. The Shaker Fossil Grey is bang on trend yet will never go out of fashion. J-Pull, available in White, Cream and Pebble, is sleek and minimal with a high gloss finish.

If you choose a kitchen from the Vogue collection, you can select any of Wren's worktops to go with your units, plus the whole range of handles, sinks (except Belfast), taps and appliances. There are 100 different types of units available and a huge range of feature units including 50 sizes of wine rack and three dog bed options. A space for everything and everyone!

> We have fallen in love with our Wren kitchen. The whole experience was a joy - from choosing the kitchen in the Showroom and seeing it come to life on screen with the designer, to having it installed. My husband, who is a director of an environmental consultancy and manages many building projects, said the installers were among the most professional he has seen. It was a seamless and thoroughly enjoyable process.

Any problems we had were very quickly sorted and I would have no hesitation in recommending Wren to friends and family."

Taps on tap

There's an endless choice of taps at Wren. Just turn to your designer to help you choose.

Taps are a prominent feature on a clear and tidy worktop and it's the attention to details such as taps that will really make your kitchen stand out. At Wren we carry a wide range of tap fittings. Mix and match them with the sink unit of your choice and create that perfect finishing touch to your brand new kitchen. Before choosing your taps, there are a couple of things to consider.

PLACEMENT

The location of your water pipes could restrict whereabouts in your kitchen you can fit taps and sinks. If plumbing work is required you will need to factor this into your overall budget. Also consider the practicalities of their placement; for example, a high, rounded spout design would be impractical under a low kitchen cabinet.

WATER PRESSURE

Most taps work fine with standard water pressure and most houses have standard pressure - but 'most' is not a guarantee. Check your water system and buy the right taps to ensure a good water flow.

TYPE

As a basic rule, the size of your tap fitting should be more or less proportional to the scale of your sink unit. Choose from a variety of styles and designs, depending on your kitchen style, from the shape of the tap handles to the length and curvature of the body.

MONOBLOC

One single handle or lever controls the hot and cold water delivery, a perfect design for minimalist kitchens. With this type of tap, water pressure for hot and cold must be close to equal.

MIXER

The mixer style has separate levers or handles controlling hot and cold water, but the water is mixed through one single spout. This makes it easier to regulate temperature and avoid scalding with hot water.

DUAL FLOW

A useful variation on the mixer, the dual flow has the same design but keeps the two water supplies separate until they come out of the nozzle - an important feature if your cold and hot water pressures are significantly different.

Kitchen sinks

With a huge range of styles available our designers are always on hand to help you choose the perfect sink.

The sink was just a practicality in a kitchen but with Wren Kitchens' extensive range of basins you can create a striking feature that will fit seamlessly into any kitchen design. With plenty of stylish and innovative designs to choose from, consider shape, materials and how your sink will work in tandem with our range of worktops and kitchen units.

HOW MANY?

The advantages of having two sinks make it a popular choice for larger kitchens. Imagine you're cooking a large meal; you have somewhere to put your baking dishes to soak, as well as a separate basin of clean water for washing up the items you want to re-use, or for draining vegetables. If space is tight, choose a half-size additional sink to give you somewhere to rinse off dirty utensils before putting in a dishwasher. Remember to leave space for a draining area to avoid flooding worktops.

SIZE AND SHAPE

When you know how many sinks you want, you can decide on shape and size. The shape you choose is very much down to personal taste - but just remember that with a round basin the diameter will need to be greater than the width of a square or rectangular bowl, as the lack of corners cuts down on volume, making it smaller.

MATERIAL

There are three options when it comes to materials: stainless steel, composite and ceramic.

STAINLESS STEEL

Stainless steel sinks feature in more than 70 per cent of homes, as they are affordable yet extremely hygienic, easy to clean, hard-wearing and environmentally friendly. Try polished steel for an ultra-sleek modern look or opt for a brushed, textured or satin finish.

COMPOSITE

If you're aiming for a sleek, contemporary look but don't want stainless steel, try a composite sink. Composite materials are durable and easy to clean, and can be produced in a range of colours. What's more, the nature of the manufacturing process means the sinks are virtually seamless.

CERAMIC

Ceramic sinks come with an attractive glaze and can sit comfortably in traditional or modern kitchen designs. They come in a range of shades; so your sink can either fit in with your colour scheme or be a feature all of its own. The ultimate choice for traditional or classic kitchen styles, a ceramic Belfast sink is bigger and fits the largest pans and roasting tins. Belfast sinks can only be placed in the solid surface of a quartz, granite or timber worktop or under-mounted in a Corian® worktop. It cannot be fitted in a laminate worktop.

MODERN KITCHENS

Our true handleless kitchens are modern masterpieces, deceptively simple designs with a softer, gentler profile. With no frames or handles, units run cleanly through spaces, and islands form stunning centrepieces.

"All of the kitchen was delivered on time apart from one cupboard that was incorrect. The incorrect cupboard was replaced very quickly and another door which our fitter asked for in order to make better use of the space below the oven was also delivered quickly. The surveyor did a good job and the salesman at Thurrock Lakeside retail park was also very helpful. All in all we would recommend Wren but of course we had a very good fitter with lots of good ideas - he even lowered the ceiling to the tops of the cupboards, something that we hadn't even considered. The quality of the equipment is excellent and we are very pleased with the final result."

Bringing out your best features

It's the little details that make the biggest difference. That's why we designed a range of special feature units in 17 colours to help you get a kitchen that ticks every box for you - and your family.

So as well as thousands of unit sizes in your selected range, you can also add bespoke cabinets such as cook's tables, wine racks, open shelves, larders and dressers. And the details don't end there.

You get to choose how your feature unit looks - inside and out. Dressers can be single, double or triple width units. Choose one with doors - clear, opaque or smoked - or go open fronted and opt for shelves or plate racks. If you'd like a wine rack, you can go horizontal or vertical, tall or short, square or rectangular.

Our fabulous open shelves can be slipped into a bank of units or carefully curved to sit at the end of a run or an island. Perfect for displaying treasures, books, or your most used appliances, shelves can be slim or wide, tall or short - in warm wood effects or block colours to match or contrast with your units.

There are dozens of feature units and lots of little extras like overmantles, fitted trays and pastry slabs to help you personalise your space. We've even created a special place for the family dog or cat - and our pet beds come in three sizes to suit the most popular breeds.

Unique to Wren, feature units are just what you need to create a kitchen that's like no other. Just yours.

CURVED OPEN UNITS

Break up the modular feel of a contemporary kitchen by softening lines and adding interest and detail with a curved open unit. Choose a contrasting colour or texture to your cabinets to create a focal point.

DRESSER TOPS

A new take on an old classic, elegant dresser units are both functional and beautiful. Show off your collectibles or simply store your everyday china, the choice is all yours.

MIDWAYS

Midway units slot between worktop and wall units to maximise space and showcase a collection or keep ingredients close at hand. Sophisticated and versatile, these can be combined and shaped to fit any space and come in all feature colours.

OVERMANTLES

Turn the practical into a stunning feature with an overmantle canopy and create a traditional luxury finish. Overmantles provide the perfect cover for extractors. Pair with standard units to create a classic feature combining storage and decorative shelving to display your treasures. WINE RACKS

Built-in wine racks look good and are the best way to store wine - vintage or non. With Wren, there's a wine rack that's just the right size and shape for every unit and every room - from a cheeky little two-tier slotted into an island to a large floor to ceiling tower unit.

Designing with Colour

With 50 Infinity Plus colours to choose from, not to mention a whole range of special colours and finishes, picking a colour for your dream kitchen can feel daunting.

We have a colour for every home so before you make a decision, spend some time thinking about the colours that will suit your place and the people that live there.

Here are some things to consider before making your choice...

NEUTRALS

If you like the clean and classic effect of creams, whites and greys for your units, you can introduce some vibrant colour into your kitchen through a wall or ceiling painted in a bold colour or some ornate colourful tiles. You could also accent your kitchen with eye-catching blinds, lighting and accessories.

OUR 50 COLOURS

From Lagoon to Mink, Periwinkle to Damson, our 50-shade Infinity Plus palette has been carefully chosen to offer something for every style and personality type. Mix, match, combine and contrast to your heart's content; every colour is available in a choice of two finishes, so you can be sure of a beautiful result no matter what combination you choose. Our Infinity and Vogue ranges are available in five of our most popular colours.

MAKE A STATEMENT

For a kitchen with the wow factor, choose one of our statement colours. Try on-trend Baker Miller Pink which has reputed calming qualities, sophisticated Lagoon or energising Bumblebee which makes any space look bright and inviting.

EVEN MORE CHOICE

Our Infinity Plus Shaker Timber is available in four natural colours with a timeless appeal. Our Infinity Plus Milano Elements are available in nine options from warm Italian Walnut to industrial Concrete Oak. New Milano Ultra and Slab Ultra are available in eight colours in a satin, gloss or wood grain finish. Add an extra dimension to an Infinity Plus Milano kitchen with the choice of coloured profiles.

HOW TO CHOOSE

On average, kitchens are replaced every 13 years so make sure you choose colours for your units that you will love for the long term. If you're struggling to work out which colour would be best for your home, have a look at the colours in your home and wardrobe to find some clues to your favourite colours and the ones that best reflect your personality.

MIX IT UP

Torn between two colours? You can have them both! And it doesn't have to stop there - choose runs of units in complementary colours and even add an island in an accent shade.

For inspiration about which colours to choose, visit one of our nationwide Showrooms where you can see many of our colours brought to life in kitchen displays and chat to a Kitchen Designer about what will work in your space.

"From walking into the Showroom in Chelmsford the staff were very friendly and nothing was a problem. They came and measured our kitchen and then back at the Showroom drew up plans and showed us 3D pictures of what the new kitchen would look like. We took them home and compared them. We went back to the Showroom and asked for some alterations, moving some units around. The salesman re-drew the plans to the way we wanted. A short time later a surveyor came to make sure everything was possible. The units arrived all fully built and ready to install. After the work was complete we have the dream kitchen we always wanted. Thank you Wren..."

ISLANDS AND FEATURE ISLANDS

AN ISLAND MADE FOR YOU

Design your own island with all of the features and details that work for your home.

At Wren Kitchens, we don't help you choose a kitchen island, we help you design one that's a perfect fit for your kitchen and how you use it.

Islands can be made up of a run of back to back units or single units to complement or contrast with your chosen range. Or you can opt for one of our specialist designer islands made of quartz or Corian® for a stunning centrepiece.

Whatever choice you make, you'll be able to personalise your island - and it will be made to order.

PERSONAL FEATURES

Style up your island with special feature units. There are wine racks, open shelves and cook's tables to choose from. Or make your island a home for your pet with a pet bed. There are so many special features to choose from so your island will be unique.

TAKE YOUR SEATS

If you have the space, turn your island into a kitchen diner. Carefully designed worktop overhangs can become great breakfast bars or casual dining areas. Extend a granite or quartz worktop and create an elegant place for dining.

BUILT IN UNITS AND APPLIANCES

Make your island an efficient workstation with stacks of drawer units for greater visibility. Plumb in an appliance such as a fridge, wine cooler or washer. Build in a hob and sink and use it as your main cooking area.

SIZES AND SHAPES

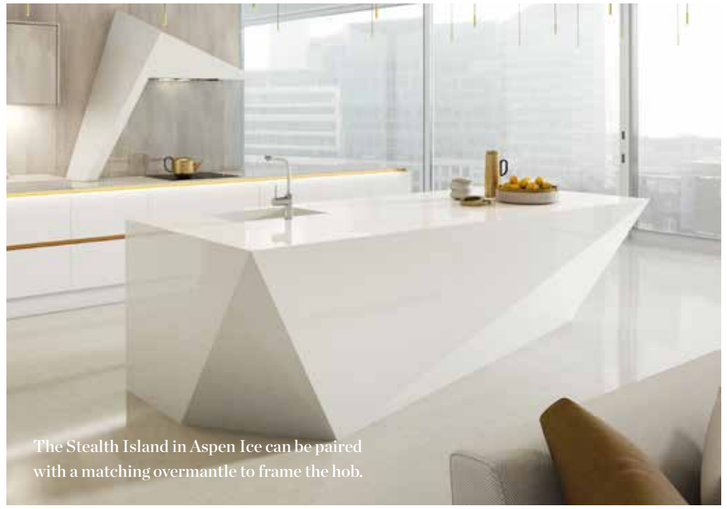
Square and compact or long and rectangular, the shape of your island - and its size - depends on your home as well as your taste. Soften edges with curved corners and use the ends to display your treasures.

PENINSULAR OPTIONS

For safety and access, there are guidelines for walkway sizes around islands. If you don't have the space, a peninsular is a fantastic alternative. Personalise your peninsular with feature units and a bar for working or dining.

SPECIALIST ISLANDS

For a real wow factor, our range of specialist islands made in quartz or Corian® are designed to make an impact in kitchens of all sizes. Made to order, the Stealth and Mirage Islands can be fitted with a range of appliances - see the following pages for more details.



The Stealth Island in Aspen Ice can be paired with a matching overmantle to frame the hob.

STEALTH & MIRAGE ISLANDS

WORKTOPS

QUARTZ

Beautiful and built to last, a quartz worktop is a sleek finishing touch to contemporary or traditional kitchens.

A quartz worktop is an investment in style and substance. Made using one of nature's strongest minerals - quartz - mixed with resin, this advanced engineering process combines the unique qualities of stone with all of the benefits of technology.

Our quartz worktops are a sophisticated choice that can work with any of our kitchen ranges. For traditional kitchens, there are natural tones and classic veining patterns that perfectly mimic marble and granite. For modern and handleless kitchens, dramatic colours and effects such as reflecting mirror particles make bold statements, so you can find your perfect worktop.

Quartz worktops are available in a variety of thicknesses, colours and patterns to match your personal style and your choice of units. Just like natural stone, the particle structure of the crystals varies so every worktop is unique with an individual pattern and tone that has no twin, although they are more consistent in tone than any raw organic material.

As quartz is man-made, worktops have incredible flexibility and can be shaped to fit almost any design idea with edging options ranging from simple to ornate. Resistant to shock, scratching and staining, the natural hardness of quartz makes it easier to maintain and gives it a highly polished finish with a silky touch.

CORIAN®

Smooth, even and virtually seamless, Corian® worktops complete an ultra contemporary luxury kitchen design like nothing else can.

Man-made using a complex patented process, Corian® offers almost limitless options for your home with a dazzling range of colours, patterns and tones. Amazingly versatile, slabs can be joined to create extra long or wide worktops with barely visible joints for stunning interior designs.

All colours have a matt silk finish which takes on the ambient room temperature. This makes it a warm and welcoming material for the home. Available in thicknesses from super slimline 24mm, standard 38mm and up to 165mm for a touch of urban industrial chic. Non-porous, it's stain resistant, hygienic, easy to maintain and renewable.

TIMBER

Classic and contemporary, a timber worktop brings the natural beauty of wood into the home giving a unique and warm finish to every kitchen.

The beauty of natural wood is in its individual grain and colour so no two worktops are ever the same. Our worktops have a lustrous, silky smooth finish that's something special and it's all down to the quality of the wood chosen and how this precious organic material is turned into your worktop. We use only high-quality oak, walnut and teak from sustainable sources and we let the natural colour and grain of each piece of wood shine through with no stains used.

Timber worktops are tailor made for your kitchen. They are tough and hardwearing and with care - and regular oiling - they improve with age.

LUXURY LAMINATE

Durable and versatile, Luxury Laminate is the most popular choice for worktops and our new range takes laminate to another level with more colours, more finishes and three thicknesses.

Thicknesses include: 22mm, 38mm and 80mm

HUMBER KITCHENS

OUR HERITAGE

From the early days of the fitted kitchen to launching Infinity Plus and Vogue, the family behind Wren has been setting the pace for the kitchen industry. Their journey has taken them from Yorkshire to the US and back again but they've always kept quality and affordability at their heart.

The family's journey began in the 1950s with Newhome Paint in Hull, a flourishing family business, before they branched out into the highly successful Status Discount stores which they ran during the 1960s and 1970s.

As their journey progressed, so did the British kitchen which, up until the 1970s, was a jumble of mismatched furniture - cupboards, tables and dressers - with standalone cookers, fridges and washing machines slotted in the gaps. Back then, these were functional rooms for cooking, for eating and for doing the laundry. Grander kitchens with sweeps of beautifully fitted cabinets did exist but only in the wealthiest of homes. Handmade by carpenters and craftsmen, these bespoke fitted kitchens were way beyond the means of the average family.

Launch of Hygena

All that changed in the 1970s when the family's latest venture Humber Kitchens, later to become Hygena, made the fitted kitchen widely affordable for the very first time. The secret to lowering the price was combining technology and design. Hygena kitchens were made in a brand new high-tech factory in Howden, East Yorkshire. At one point one in three kitchens in the UK was a Hygena kitchen. By manufacturing the kitchens themselves, costs were kept low and quality standards high - the very things that Wren is famous for today.

First affordable luxury kitchens

It was a groundbreaking formula that changed our homes forever. Hygena's smart and beautiful designs and finishes fuelled the explosion in popularity of the fitted kitchen. As a result the size of British kitchens began to grow and the room's role in our homes started to change. Family life started to revolve around the kitchen and it became the place for everyone to spend time together as well as to eat, entertain, work and play.

Having started a kitchen revolution in the UK, Hygena was sold and its UK owners headed to the US, taking the same formula of technological innovation, high quality and low prices to the American kitchen market with a fitted kitchen brand called Mill's Pride. After turning Mill's Pride into the second largest kitchen manufacturer in the US, the green fields of Yorkshire beckoned the family home. The business was sold and they returned to the UK.

Birth of Wren Kitchens

On a shopping trip in 2008, the family found themselves looking at fitted kitchens and were shocked by what they discovered - a market that had gone backwards in terms of both quality and choice. A market that was ready for a second revolution - and so Wren Kitchens was born.

With innovation, investment and decades of experience behind it, Wren set out to change the market. Since launching in 2009, Wren has become the largest manufacturer and retailer in the UK with Showrooms nationwide.

Raising the bar with Infinity

In 2016, Wren decided to raise the bar in the fitted kitchen market once again with the launch of Infinity. This range is all about giving customers choice. As the largest and most diverse kitchen range in the UK with thousands of styles, unit sizes, and special feature units, Infinity has as much flexibility as a handmade kitchen to make the best use of your space.

At prices that everyone can afford, Infinity makes the dream of a bespoke kitchen a reality for every household. Creating Infinity took £50 million of investment, bringing the total manufacturing space across the three sites to in excess of 1.5 million square feet.

Flat pack back in Vogue

To widen the choice for customers even more, Wren launched Vogue in 2017. Vogue is a range of the most popular kitchen styles and colours - all made to the same high standard as Infinity - in a flat pack format to help customers get even more for their money.

While Wren is light years ahead of Hygena in terms of style and design, it shares the same quality DNA and a passion to give people the kitchens of their dreams - whatever their budget. And it's this passion and quality which has led to Wren Kitchens becoming the UK's number one kitchen retail specialist.

MANUFACTURING

Our 1 million sq ft factory and headquarters in Barton-upon-Humber

Wren has always been committed to excellence and to UK manufacturing. All Vogue, Infinity and Infinity Plus kitchen units are manufactured in our three Yorkshire and Lincolnshire-based factories. Our kitchens are delivered to you - by our teams and our curved worktops are also precision cut for your kitchen at the factory.

To create the Infinity range, we invested £50 million in manufacturing and spent 25,000 hours on research and development in 2016. Our factories have been re-configured to produce new units, finishes and colours and we have created a third manufacturing facility with an additional 800,000 sq ft. We pair advanced robot paint technology with hand spraying for the best finish.

DELIVERY

We can usually deliver your brand new kitchen to you within four weeks of your order. Your kitchen will be delivered in a Wren Kitchens lorry, driven by one of our own delivery drivers - it's another way we keep our kitchens affordable.

You'll be given a confirmed delivery date a week beforehand and you'll need to make sure you have a clean, dry space to store your kitchen before it's installed - it might take up more space than you think. The driver will need safe and clear access to your premises so that they can park and unload the lorry.

From our place to yours, we'll look after your dream kitchen at every step of the way.
